INTRODUCTION TO PRACTICUM

Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology

The practicum experience for the Counseling Psychology program at the University of Denver's Morgridge College of Education provides a supervised transition from an academic setting to the professional field of counseling. The program is coordinated by a professor from the Counseling Psychology program working with selected on-site supervisors (practitioners from approved field settings). Components of the practicum include: 1) supervised experience in the field setting; and 2) additional individual and group consultation sessions with a Counseling Psychology staff member (the D.U. practicum instructor).

In the interest of professional standards as well as for practical considerations, students are encouraged to pursue practicum experiences in settings other than their normal place of employment. Practicum experience in normal places of employment may produce a conflict of obligations for the employer. Experiences in other settings will provide the student with a broader exposure to the counseling field, which is important in a training program. Exceptions will be granted to this rule only on the recommendation of the advisor and with the approval of the Counseling Psychology faculty. The student must show that he/she will obtain new and relevant training at the current place of employment as well as appropriate supervision.

Students in Doctoral Practicum need to complete at least 500 hours of on-site work over 3 quarters with a minimum of 250 direct client contact hours, and 50 hours of individual client counseling. The practicum requires a minimum 12-20 hours per week. The individual site supervisor needs to be a doctoral level psychologist (unless an exception is made). At least one hour of individual face to face supervision must occur weekly.

ELIGIBILITY

Doctoral students should consider applying for a practicum when the following fundamental skills have been developed:

1. The individual should be able to evaluate him/herself in terms of strengths and weaknesses in specific counseling areas.
2. The individual should possess basic counseling skills and be effective at a level that is more than just minimally facilitative.

3. The individual should demonstrate a willingness to learn new approaches or techniques and have the flexibility to change styles.
4. The practicum student should understand the basic differences as well as similarities in the philosophies of major counseling and psychotherapeutic theories and be able to use these theories in practical applications.

Because students who are admitted to the doctoral program are assumed to have developed the above skills, they will be admissible to a practicum upon entering the program. In certain cases where deficiencies are apparent, a student will be asked to complete additional course work before submitting a practicum application. Students should consult with the practicum coordinator and their advisor and choose a practicum that will supplement their previous experience.

INITIATING PRACTICUM

The student must be aware that some sites require one or more interviews with practicum candidates before agreeing to provide training experience. Therefore, advance planning is essential when preparing for the practicum placement.

As this is an extremely important part of the student's professional training, determining where and when the practicum will take place should be decided with great care. Practicum sites in Denver as well as the Colorado Springs area are quite varied, and choices should be made on the basis of the student's interests, preparation, and experience. Students are encouraged to work with a diversity of clients, and supervisors are urged to try to give students these opportunities.

There are two ways to initiate a practicum placement:

1. Students who are familiar with other agencies may contact these agencies directly. It is also suggested that after reviewing the potential sites with their advisors, students visit several sites and talk with each about possible practicum activities. Students should take with them a copy of their own vita and be prepared to discuss their training, experience, and goals for the practicum. Copies of the Introduction to the Counseling Psychology Practicum should also be taken for the potential supervisor. Students should not make any final commitment to a site before clearing the site with the Training Director.
2. If students are unfamiliar with potential practicum sites, they may make an appointment with their advisor and Training Director to review alternatives. After this review, they should proceed as in step "2" above. Final approval for a practicum site is the responsibility of the Training Director in consultation with the practicum coordinator.

PRACTICUM REQUIREMENTS

The practicum should foster:

- 1) social and professional responsibility in accord with the profession's ethical code;
- 2) the ability to conceptualize human problems;
- 3) knowledge of human differences;
- 4) an understanding of how personality and individual biases may influence human interactions; and
- 5) skill development such as interviewing, diagnosis, testing, treatment planning, etc.;
- and 6) the ability to contribute to current knowledge and/or practice.

At least half of the on-site time should be spent in direct service. Unless specifically contracted ahead of time, part of this direct service time must include individual contacts with clients, e.g., career counseling, psychotherapy, intake procedures, and crisis intervention. Other appropriate direct service experience may include group counseling, assessment, and family counseling. Practicum may also include research, program development and evaluation, consultation, and record keeping. All students must participate in on-site supervision.

For the Doctoral level practicum the following requirements must be met:

1. The student must accumulate 500 hours of practicum, including 250 client contact hours and at least 50 individual client contact hours.
2. The policy of the Counseling Psychology program is that students are not allowed to pay for practicum supervision because it increases the risk of problems arising from a dual relationship.
3. Students must be able to audiotape or videotape client sessions. A minimum of two tapes per quarter will be reviewed with the D.U. practicum instructor.

Doctoral level students must be supervised by a licensed psychologist.

Different D.U. practicum instructors will require different assignments as specified in course outlines. All students will participate in 1-2 hours of practicum class each week and approximately two hours of individual consultation during the quarter with the D.U. instructor.

Students are required to accumulate the 500 hours of practicum at one site. If a Doctoral student wants to change sites for some extraordinary reason, the procedures outlined below must be followed:

1. Discuss the situation with the practicum instructor, advisor, and training director.
2. Write a letter of petition to the faculty explaining the situation and requesting a change.
3. Wait for a faculty decision before any new site is contacted.

It is very important that these steps be followed in order to ensure that both practicum students and sites have the best experience possible.

The Contract

The University of Denver will provide students with a contract to assist the practicum sites, the students, and the University in delineating responsibilities. The contract will address issues of time commitment, specific duties and expectations of the student, the functions of the on-site practicum supervisor, the practicum agency, and the D.U. practicum instructor.

Insurance

All practicum students are required to obtain their own psychology malpractice insurance during the time you are doing supervised practicum experience. This insurance may be purchased from ACA or APA for greatly reduced student rates.

Grading

The D.U. instructor will assign practicum grades on the basis of the on-site supervisor's recommendation, the D.U. instructor's observations, and class assignments. The following criteria will be used:

A = Student is performing at a higher than expected level compared to other students of equivalent training.

B = Student is performing at the expected level compared with other students of equivalent training (typical grade for 1st and 2nd quarters).

C = Student is deficient in some area of expected competence or has been unable to complete the required number of hours on-site or assignments.

--Adapted from practicum guidelines developed by the American Psychological Association.

ROLE OF PRACTICUM INSTRUCTORS AND ON-SITE SUPERVISORS

Because both students and on-site supervisors have sometimes been confused with the role of the practicum instructor, the Counseling Psychology faculty wrote the following clarification.

According to Colorado State Grievance Board Rule 16, Supervision of Psychotherapists, clinical supervision occurs when there is a close, on-going review and direction of a supervisee's clinical practice. Since the practicum instructor typically meets individually with students between one and three times a quarter, the instructor is not offering clinical supervision according to the definition. By contrast, that is the role of the on-site supervisor since the on-site supervisor is meeting with the student weekly and providing direction and review of the student's cases.

The practicum instructor plays the role of the program monitor of student's counseling skills and skill development. While the instructor uses many of the same skills and procedures that a supervisor would use, because of the limited contact with the student and the student's cases, his or her role is different. As a skill monitor, the practicum instructor will ask students to bring in tapes that both illustrate strengths and weaknesses in their work.

Sometimes because of theoretical or other differences, the practicum instructor and the on-site clinical supervisor may have different views about treating a client. Ideally, students should integrate both sets of recommendations; however, since on-site supervisors have primary responsibility for students' work, students should ultimately follow the on-site supervisor's feedback.

It should be noted that students may sometimes have difficulties on their site. Under those circumstances, students should assume the responsibility of bringing up issues or difficulties for discussion with his or her on-site supervisor. The practicum instructor will work with the site in resolving training issues. On-site supervisors are encouraged to contact the practicum instructor.

ON-SITE SUPERVISOR MEMORANDUM

TO: Counseling Practicum Supervisor
FROM: Dr. Maria Riva, Doctoral Training Director
SUBJECT: Supervision of Counseling Practicum Students from the University of Denver

Thank you for agreeing to supervise one of our Counseling students for his/her practicum. Your main requirement as a Field Supervisor is to meet with the practicum student for at least one hour per week for a face-to-face supervisory conference. Your comments may be based on observing the student's counseling sessions, listening to tapes, or reading session notes. It is expected that you will be responsible for screening clients and matching them with the supervisee's ability level. Students are encouraged to work with a diversity of clients. Activities considered appropriate for the practicum experience are direct services such as: individual and group counseling, consultation with parents and teachers, career counseling and assessment opportunities commensurate with the student's skills. Students are also required to tape at least two of their individual client sessions for instructional purposes at DU. Each student will be asked to present some of his/her counseling case material to the practicum class on campus.

Client names will not be used so that confidentiality is observed. If any of these requirements cannot be met at your site, please contact the practicum instructor at D.U. as soon as possible. The student must be able to meet these requirements in order to complete the practicum course.

We highly value the time and effort you will give to the supervision of this student. In exchange, we expect the practicum student will give you service of good quality. It is the policy of our department at this time that supervisors will not be compensated by either the student or the University for supervision time.

Enclosed is your copy of the student's practicum evaluation form to be completed independently by you. The student is responsible for evaluating themselves on a duplicate form and arranging a joint feedback session. Both forms must be returned by the student to the practicum instructor by the end of the quarter.

Please contact Dr. _____ (Practicum Instructor) at _____ with any questions or concerns.

GUIDELINES FOR CASE PRESENTATION

Although various formats may be used, psychosocial or case summaries generally include certain information. The following can be used as a guide.

CASE HISTORY OUTLINE

I. Identifying Data

Include demographic data such as age, race, sex, marital status and occupation (employment, school, house person). Also include a description of the client's general appearance, behavior, mood, and manner of relating to you.

II. Presenting Problem

A brief statement, including the client's own words if possible, of why he/she came or was brought to see you. There may be more than one person. Also include a statement of how other significant persons view the situation (e.g., family members, teachers, peers).

III. Source of Referral IV. History of Present Problem

Include an elaborated description of the current problem as well as information about its onset, severity, apparent precipitating causes, and effect on others. Also include the client's understanding of the problem and his/her attitude toward counseling.

V. Biographical Information

1. Interpersonal Relationships:

Include relevant family situation (past and present), relationships with peers, and general style of relating to others.

2. Educational History:

Describe current grade level (or highest grade completed) and degree of success and satisfaction with schooling.

3. Work History:

List jobs, including current employment and satisfaction.

4. Previous Reactions to Crisis and Stress.

VI. Medical History

Include information about general health, significant illnesses, injuries and hospitalization, drugs, etc.

VII. Testing Information

Include rationale why specific instruments were chosen.

VIII. Conceptualization

Conceptualize the client's problem and significant contributing factors based on your theoretical framework. Explain the symptoms, their cause, etc., from the perspective of theory.

University of Denver
Counseling Psychology Practicum Advanced

IX. Counseling Plan

Formulate your (and your client's) goals for counseling. Describe any specific counseling procedures to be used, specifying how this plan fits into your theoretical framework. Include information about client's strengths which can be utilized toward achieving these goals.

X. Course of Treatment

Describe the course of treatment including success or failure, reformulation of the problem, and goals and problems yet to be dealt with.

XI. Questions for the Class

Identify areas of your uncertainty in the process of gathering information, diagnosing, planning and conducting counseling sessions for this particular case and formulate questions for your classmates designed to help you improve your work.

This feedback form is consistent with the training model for our counseling psychology programs as it uses a developmental, competency-based model. The areas of competency listed below have been discussed in literature and are considered the critical areas of knowledge, awareness, and skills for the practice of psychology. Trainees should be provided feedback based on their level of professional development, not relative to peers. Expectations of trainees vary depending on their training level.

Please use the following scale to rate your supervisee on the items below:

+7 Strongly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown strong evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is highly consistent.

+6 Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is mostly consistent.

+5 Slightly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is fairly consistent

+4 Meets Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is inconsistent.

+3 Slightly Below Expectations: This is an emerging knowledge, awareness, and/or skill for trainee. The trainee's knowledge, awareness, and/or skill are not very evident in their performance or discussions. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision.

+2 Below Expectations: Trainee lacks understanding and demonstrates minimal to no evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision. Remedial work may be required.

+1 Extremely Below Expectations: Trainee demonstrates problematic or harmful behavior requiring immediate attention. Immediate attention and remedial work will be required.

N/A Not applicable for this training experience or not assessed by this supervisor.
