

CAEP ACCOUNTABILITY MEASURES

Candidate Competency at Completion

The Morgridge College of Education has provided initial teacher licensure exam pass rates for the following cohorts of Teacher Education Program (TEP) candidates: 2018-19, 2019-20, and 2020-21. Candidates must pass Colorado content specific exams on the first or second attempt to be considered as “passed.”

Available comparison data at the state level has also been provided (source: <https://title2.ed.gov/Public/Home.aspx>; from “Select a State” tab, select Colorado; on “Full Report” tab, select “Section V. Traditional Summary Pass Rates” from drop down menu; select “University of Denver” from “View Provider Information” list).

These pass rates are calculated using the following method:

- # of completers in a cohort year who passed exams / # of total completers in cohort year taking exams

MCE Licensure Exam Pass Rates by TEP Cohort

Academic Year Cohort	MCE TEP # taking tests	MCE TEP # passing tests	MCE TEP Pass rate (%)	CO Average pass rate (%)
