PRACTICUM

INTRODUCTION TO PRACTICUM

The first year Practicum experience for the Counseling Psychology program at the University of Denver's Morgridge College of Education provides a supervised transition from an academic setting to the professional field of counseling. A professor from the Counseling Psychology program works with selected on-site supervisors (practitioners from approved field settings) to coordinate the practicum experience. Components of practicum experience include: (1) an introductory course (Fieldwork) (2) supervised experience in the field setting and (3) additional individual and group consultation sessions with the Counseling Psychology Beginning Practicum instructor.

Fieldwork (Fall Quarter)

Prior to enrolling in Beginning Practicum, students are required to take Fieldwork (CNP 4743) in the Fall of their first year. The Fieldwork orientation experience should help the student develop the basic knowledge needed in order to function on site. Students will attend Fieldwork weekly and engage with the instructor to review progress toward securing a practicum site. Concurrently, students will also take other academic courses to prepare them for practicum and internship. A student needs to develop fundamental skills for a practicum. A student should:

1. Be able to evaluate themselves in terms of strengths and weaknesses in specific counseling areas.
2. Possess basic counseling skills and be effective at a level that is more than just minimally facilitative.
3. Demonstrate a willingness to learn new approaches or techniques and have the flexibility to change styles.
4. Demonstrate a willingness to learn the basic differences as well as similarities of major counseling and psychotherapeutic theories and be open to using these theories in practical applications.

Students are to assume responsibility for developing the above skills before entering their practicum site. In certain cases where deficiencies are apparent, a student will be asked to complete additional training or course work before proceeding with practicum. Students should choose a practicum/internship site in consultation with the Fieldwork instructor.

The Practicum and Internship Coordinator for Counseling Psychology will work to establish relationships with agencies in the community and will communicate with students and Fieldwork instructors as to the availability of positions within those agencies. Students will prepare a Curriculum Vitae and will then engage in the application and interview process as directed by Fieldwork instructors.

Once a site is established, students' training consists of 30 on-site hours of basic professional orientation at the Practicum site. During the Fieldwork orientation period students may attend case conferences or staff meetings, sit in on client sessions or intake interviews as appropriate, or be assigned readings that will aid the orientation process. Students do not participate in individual counseling with clients during the fieldwork orientation. The fieldwork orientation must include at least one hour per week of individual supervision with the on-site supervisor. Once the 30-hour requirement for Fieldwork (plus 10 hours of class) has been met, the student may count up to 20 additional hours towards the total on-site Beginning Practicum hour requirement.

Beginning Practicum (Winter & Spring or Spring and Summer Quarters)

Practicum provides 1st year Master students with supervised field experience in professional counseling. The Beginning Practicum in Counseling Psychology, scheduled in the Winter Quarter and continues through Spring Quarter, begins immediately after the Fieldwork orientation. Some sites do start practicum in the spring quarter and continue through the summer quarter. Students who do not have a site by the first day of class will need to postpone to the following quarter.

Students are required to:

1. Complete at least 200 hours of Practicum on-site work over 2 quarters. The 200 hours must include: (1) at least 100 hours of direct client contact (2) Of the 100 direct client contact hours, 25 hours must be individual counseling. If students are not able to complete a minimum of 75% of their hours by the end of each quarter (75 hours per quarter), they will receive a failing grade. Incompletes will not be granted unless under extenuating circumstances as outlined in the university's Incomplete Grade Policy.
2. Record (audio or video) a maximum of two individual counseling sessions per quarter.
3. Receive a minimum of one hour of face-to-face individual on-site *supervision per week.
4. Complete assignments required for the Beginning Practicum class. These assignments may include but are not limited to case presentations, individual consultations, and transcribing of recorded sessions.

The Beginning Practicum classes should foster:

1. Social and professional responsibility in accordance with the profession's ethical code
2. The ability to understand and conceptualize human problems
3. Knowledge of human differences and multicultural diversity issues
4. An understanding of how personality, individual biases, environmental and cultural factors may influence human interactions
5. Skill development such as interviewing, diagnosis, testing, treatment planning, etc.
6. The ability to contribute to current knowledge and/or practice

 direct client contact includes: individual and group counseling, milieu therapy, intake, couples counseling, family counseling, vocational/career counseling, crises intervention, assessment, phone consultation, and/or workshop/presentation by student when there are client's present. The student/trainee should be working one on one with the client for it to count towards the 25 hours of direct Individual client contact. It does NOT include any indirect work with clients (i.e.,: observation, writing notes, staff meetings).

 Students in the CMHC concentration must be supervised by a Master's level mental health professional (license not required) with at least one year of experience in the field.

INITIATING PRACTICUM

As this is an extremely important part of the student's professional training, determining where and when the practicum will take place should be decided with great care. The University of Denver's Counseling Psychology has collaborated with over 100 sites in the Denver Metro Area the past 4 years. Practicum sites in the area are quite varied, and choices should be made based on the student's interests, preparation, and experience. Furthermore, students are encouraged to work with a diversity of clients, and supervisors are urged to try to give students these opportunities. The student must be aware that some sites require one or more interviews with practicum candidates before agreeing to provide training experience. Therefore, advance planning is essential when preparing for the practicum placement.

Students will receive a list of sites provided by their Fieldwork instructor in the Fall Quarter. The list includes approved sites that have an established relationship with the Counseling Psychology program. Each site may have different instructions on how to apply. Please get with your instructor for details surrounding when and how to apply to each site. It is also suggested that after reviewing the potential sites with your instructor, students visit several sites and talk with each on-site contact person about possible practicum activities. Students should take with them a copy of their own vita/resume and be prepared to discuss their training, experience, and goals for the practicum. If a student is interested in a site that is not on the approved list of sites, they must contact the Practicum and Internship Coordinator, who will contact the site to ensure the program requirements can be met. The Coordinator will then contact the student and the Fieldwork instructor as to whether it is a viable site. Students should not make a final commitment to a site before clearing the site with their Fieldwork instructor.

In the interest of professional standards as well as for practical considerations, students are encouraged to pursue practicum experiences in settings other than their normal place of employment. Practicum experience in regular places of employment may produce a conflict of obligations for the employer. Experiences in other settings will provide the student with a broader exposure to the counseling field, which is important in a training program. Exceptions will be granted to this rule only on the recommendation of the advisor and with the approval of the Counseling Psychology faculty. The student must show that he/she will obtain new and relevant training at the current place of employment as well as appropriate supervision.

The policy of the Counseling Psychology program is that students are not allowed to pay for practicum supervision due to the risk of problems arising from a dual relationship. Different Beginning Practicum instructors will require different assignments as specified in course outlines. All students will participate in 2 hours of Beginning Practicum class each week and two hours of individual consultation during the quarter with the instructor. Students are required to accumulate the required 200 practicum hours at one site. However, if a student wants to change sites for some extraordinary reason, the procedures outlined below must be followed: (1) Discuss the situation with the Beginning Practicum instructor and advisor; (2) Write a letter of petition to the faculty explaining the situation and requesting a change; (3) Wait for a faculty decision before any new site is contacted. It is very important that these steps be followed in order to ensure that both practicum students and sites have the best experience possible.

Roles

If a student has an issue with their site or On-Site Supervisor, they must go directly to their Fieldwork (Fall) instructor or their Beginning Practicum (Winter, Spring, Summer) instructors. On-Site Supervisors are instructed to reach out to the Fieldwork or Beginning Practicum instructors for any issues that come up. If that issue is not resolved, the instructor or student may then go to the course lead. If the issue is still not resolved and is a larger issue at the site, the Coordinator will be the next step towards resolution. If the Coordinator is not able to resolve the issue, the Training Director may be involved. The Practicum Coordinator will be in communication with all instructors teaching Fieldwork and Beginning Practicum for updated information regarding sites. You can reach out to the Practicum Coordinator or fieldwork instructor for assistance in searching for a site.

The Agreement

The University of Denver will provide students with an On-Site Supervisor Memorandum and Agreement to assist the practicum sites, the students, and the University in delineating responsibilities. The agreement will address issues of time commitment, specific duties and expectations of the student, the functions of the on-site practicum supervisor, the practicum agency, and the Beginning Practicum instructor.

Insurance

Practicum students are required to obtain their own malpractice insurance during the supervised practicum experience. This insurance may be purchased from ACA or APA for greatly reduced student rates.

ON-SITE SUPERVISOR MEMORANDUM

TO: Practicum On-Site Supervisor

FROM: Jennifer Gafford, PhD

SUBJECT: Supervision of Counseling Psychology Practicum Students from the University of Denver

Thank you for agreeing to supervise one of our Counseling students for their practicum. Your main requirement as an On-Site Supervisor is to meet with the practicum student for at least one hour per week for a face-to-face supervisory conference. Your comments may be based on observing the student's counseling sessions, listening to tapes, or reading session notes. For liability and professional development reasons, we require that a clinical supervisor is on site when our students are working in your agency. It is expected that you will be responsible for screening clients and matching them with the supervisee's ability level. Students are encouraged to work with a diversity of clients. Activities considered appropriate for the practicum experience are direct services such as: individual and group counseling, consultation with parents and teachers, career counseling and assessment opportunities commensurate with the student's skills. Students are also required to record at least two of their individual client sessions for instructional purposes at DU. Each student will be asked to present some of their counseling case material to the practicum class on campus. Client names will not be used so that confidentiality is observed. If any of these requirements cannot be met at your site, please contact the practicum instructor at DU as soon as possible. The student must be able to meet these requirements in order to complete the practicum course.

We highly value the time and effort you will give to the supervision of this student. In exchange, we expect the practicum student will give you service of good quality. It is the policy of our program at this time that supervisors will not be compensated by either the student or the University for supervision time.

You will receive your copy of the student's practicum evaluation form to be completed independently by you. The student is responsible for evaluating themselves on a duplicate form and arranging a joint feedback session so you can discuss your perceptions of the student's skill level. Both forms must be returned by the student to the practicum instructor by the end of the quarter.

Thank you,

Jennifer Gafford, PhD. Licensed Psychologist
Clinical Assistant Professor
Training Director, MA Clinical Mental Health Counseling
University of Denver

This feedback form is consistent with the training model for our counseling psychology programs as it uses a developmental, competency-based model. The areas of competency listed below have been discussed in literature and are considered the critical areas of knowledge, awareness, and skills for the practice of psychology. Trainees should be provided feedback based on their level of professional development, not relative to peers. Expectations of trainees vary depending on their training level.

Please use the following scale to rate your supervisee on the items below:

+7 Strongly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown strong evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is highly consistent.

+6 Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is mostly consistent.

+5 Slightly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is fairly consistent

+4 Meets Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is inconsistent.

+3 Slightly Below Expectations: This is an emerging knowledge, awareness, and/or skill for trainee. The trainee's knowledge, awareness, and/or skill are not very evident in their performance or discussions. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision.

+2 Below Expectations: Trainee lacks understanding and demonstrates minimal to no evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision. Remedial work may be required.

+1 Extremely Below Expectations: Trainee demonstrates problematic or harmful behavior requiring immediate attention. Immediate attention and remedial work will be required.

INTERNSHIP

INTRODUCTION TO MASTERS INTERNSHIP

The Master's Internship for the Counseling program in the Morgridge College of Education, University of Denver (DU), is a fieldwork experience that provides a supervised transition from an academic setting to the professional field of counseling. A list of approved sites will be given to students, and they will be allowed to begin looking for internship placements during the Winter Quarter of their first year. The internship is generally undertaken during the second year of the master's program (typically Fall, Winter, and Spring quarters), and is coordinated by a professor from the Counseling Psychology program working with selected on-site supervisors. Components of the internship include: 1) supervised experience in the field setting; and 2) additional individual and group consultation sessions with a Counseling Psychology faculty member (the DU Internship instructor).

Students will receive a list of sites in the Winter Quarter from the Coordinator. The list includes approved sites that have an established relationship with the Counseling Psychology program. Each site may have different instructions on how to apply. Please get with the Practicum Coordinator for details surrounding when and how to apply to each site. It is also suggested that after reviewing the potential sites, students visit several sites and talk with each on-site contact person about possible practicum activities. Students should take with them a copy of their own vita/resume and be prepared to discuss their training, experience, and goals for the practicum. If a student is interested in a site that is not on the approved list of sites, they must get with the Practicum Coordinator so that they can initiate contact with that site. Students should not make a final commitment to a site before clearing the site with their advisor or Practicum Coordinator.

The Counseling Psychology internship requires a minimum approximately 20 hours per week for Master's students. They must complete at least 600 hours of on-site work (generally 200 hours per quarter, over 3 quarters). This includes a minimum of 300 direct client contact hours. Of these, a minimum of 75 hours must be spent doing individual counseling. Individual counseling is defined as the student providing counseling to one client (co-therapy is not included in this 75 hours). If students are not able to complete a minimum of 75% of their hours by the end of each quarter (150 hours per quarter), they will receive a failing grade. Incompletes will not be granted unless under extenuating circumstances as outlined in the university's Incomplete Grade Policy.

In the interest of professional standards as well as practical considerations, students are required to pursue internship experiences in settings other than their normal place of employment, except in unusual circumstances and with the permission of the faculty. Internship experiences in normal places of employment may produce a conflict of obligations for the employer. Further, students must pursue internship placements that are different from their first-year practicum placements. Experiences in other settings will provide the student with a broader exposure to the counseling field, which is important in a training program. In those cases where students wish to continue their training at the same site where they completed their practicum, major change in tasks and training must occur. For example, the training experience could change from an outpatient setting with adults to an inpatient setting with adolescents the same agency. Exceptions to these rules will be granted only on the recommendation of the advisor and with the approval of the Counseling Psychology faculty. The student must show that he/she will obtain new and relevant training and appropriate supervision if he/she remains at the site where

* direct client contact includes: individual and group counseling, milieu therapy, intake, couples counseling, family counseling, vocational/career counseling, crises intervention, assessment, phone consultation, and/or workshop/presentation by student. The student/trainee should be working one on one with the client for it to count as direct client contact. It does NOT include any indirect work with clients (ie: observation, writing notes, staff meetings).

Roles

If a student has an issue with their site or On-Site Supervisor, they must go directly to their Internship instructor. On- Site Supervisors are instructed to reach out to the Internship instructors for any issues that come up. If that issue is not resolved, the instructor or student may then go to the course lead. If the issue is still not resolved and is a larger issue at the site, the Coordinator will be the next step towards resolution. If the Coordinator is not able to resolve the issue, the Training Director may be involved. You can reach out to the Coordinator for assistance in searching for a site.

The Agreement

The University of Denver will provide students with an On- Site Supervisor Memorandum and Agreement to assist the practicum sites, the students, and the University in delineating responsibilities. The agreement will address issues of time commitment, specific duties and expectations of the student, the functions of the on-site practicum supervisor, the internship agency, and the Internship instructor.

Insurance

Practicum students are required to obtain their own malpractice insurance during the supervised internship experience. This insurance may be purchased from ACA or APA for greatly reduced student rates.

ON-SITE SUPERVISOR MEMORANDUM

Thank you for agreeing to supervise one of our Counseling students for their internship. Your main requirement as an On-Site Supervisor is to meet with the internship student for at least one hour per week for a face-to-face supervisory conference, and to evaluate the student's performance at your site. Your comments may be based on observing the student's counseling sessions, listening to tapes, or reading session notes. For liability and professional development reasons, we require that a clinical supervisor is on site when our students are working in your agency. It is expected that you will be responsible for screening clients and matching them with the supervisee's ability level. Students are encouraged to work with a diverse group of clients. Activities considered appropriate for the internship experience are direct services such as: individual, marital, family, and group counseling, consultation with parents and teachers, career counseling, and assessment opportunities commensurate with the student's skills. Students are required to accumulate 600 hours on site over the course of 3 quarters. Of the required hours, students must have at least 75 hours of individual client contact. Students are also required to audiotape at least two of their sessions per quarter for review purposes at DU. In addition, each student will be asked to present some of his/her counseling case material to the internship class on campus. Client names will not be used so that confidentiality is observed. If any of these requirements cannot be met at your site, please contact the internship supervisor at DU as soon as possible. The student must be able to meet these requirements in order to complete the internship course. Enclosed is your copy of the student's internship evaluation form to be completed independently by you. The student is responsible for evaluating him/herself on a duplicate form and arranging a joint feedback session. Both forms must be returned by the student to the internship supervisor by the end of the quarter.

We highly value the time and effort you will give to the supervision of this student. In exchange, we expect the internship student will give you service of good quality. It is the policy of our department at this time that supervisors will not be compensated by either the student or the University for supervision time.

Please contact the Internship instructor with any questions or concerns.
Thank you,

 the counseling sessions have been explained to me. I understand that recording the counseling sessions partially fulfill the requirements of the practicum and internship courses for the Counseling Psychology department at the University of Denver and are for training purposes. I have been informed that participation as a client is strictly voluntary and that I can withdraw at any time. I understand my present or future status as a client in the agency will not be affected by participation or non-participation. I am aware that the course instructor and the practicum or internship course students will review this tape for consultation sessions only. Identifying information will be reasonably removed, and the recordings will be deleted following the consultation sessions. Finally, I understand that I am free to ask my therapist or my therapist’s supervisor about the nature or use of these recordings.

This feedback form is consistent with the training model for our counseling psychology programs as it uses a developmental, competency-based model. The areas of competency listed below have been discussed in literature and are considered the critical areas of knowledge, awareness, and skills for the practice of psychology. Trainees should be provided feedback based on their level of professional development, not relative to peers. Expectations of trainees vary depending on their training level.

Please use the following scale to rate your supervisee on the items below:

+7 Strongly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown strong evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is highly consistent.

+6 Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is mostly consistent.

+5 Slightly Above Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is fairly consistent

+4 Meets Expectations: The trainee has shown some evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Performance is inconsistent.

+3 Slightly Below Expectations: This is an emerging knowledge, awareness, and/or skill for trainee. The trainee's knowledge, awareness, and/or skill are not very evident in their performance or discussions. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision.

+2 Below Expectations: Trainee lacks understanding and demonstrates minimal to no evidence of the knowledge, awareness, and/or skill. Extra attention and focus should be provided in supervision. Remedial work may be required.

+1 Extremely Below Expectations: Trainee demonstrates problematic or harmful behavior requiring immediate attention. Immediate attention and remedial work will be required.
